FARMERS SEEK THE OATS PRIZE

GRAIN FESTIVAL TO SCORE BIG SUCCESS

EXPECTING 1,500

All Towns of Importance and Every Section of Adjoining Counties Will Contest

Indications point to a crowd of not less than 1,500 people and possibly 2,000 for the first Annual Grain Festival of the Anderson Chamber of Commerce, which occurs here on Tuesday, July 21st. Letters received in Anderson yesterday from Greenwood, Abbeville, Walhalla, Pickens, Pendleton, Honea Path, Belton, Pelzer, Sandy Springs and various other towns in the Third congressional district, are to the effect that all parts of the district will be well represented at the meeting. Collaborator Keese, of Greenwood, writes that not less than 50 Greenwood farmers will be here, many of whom will enter the various grain contests.

An invitation, special in its nature, was extended by wire today to Clarence Poe, of Raleigh, N. C., editor of the Progressive Farmer, to attend the festival and to make an address on the afternoon of the day.

Arrangements were definitely perfected yesterday by which all grain will be placed on exhibit at the new seed store of Furman Smith, wholesale seedman.

It was also announced that Congressman Lever, W. W. Long, United States agricultural agent, and Col. E. J. Watson, state commissioner for South Carolina, would judge the various contests. The judging will occur in the afternoon after the formal exercises.

A telegram was received here from Edgefield asking if farmers in Edgefield county would be allowed to exhibit and enter the contests. Under the rules submitted and passed upon last year, when the inauguration of the festival began, it was decided to limit the contest to Anderson county farmers only, and therefore the local committee of arrangements regretted that they had to wire Edgefield that while they would be glad to have them exhibit, that they could not allow them to compete for the prizes, the aggregate value of which now exceeds $500 in cash.

A special effort will be made by members of the Pendleton Farmers' Society, according to information received yesterday, to win the capital oats prize, since Pendleton society is already the owner of several oats prizes. The Pendleton society will not, however, according to President Harris, compete as an organization, only individuals taking part as such.

NEGRO KILLED BY WHITE MAN

Affair Took Place Between Fair Play and Townville Some Time During the Afternoon

Anderson county officers last night received a message to the effect that a white man had killed a negro on the road between Fair Play and Townville. The message gave no details and merely asked that the coroner and sheriff come to Townville at once. Coroner Hardin and one of the deputies left at once for Townville but at the time of The Intelligencer going to press they had not returned. Because of the fact that there is no telephone service with Townville after night, it was impossible last night to find out the names of the parties involved or how the killing was done. There was no information available as to what means the white man employed in killing the negro.

HIS CLOP RUINED

Anderson's Man Who Moved to Georgia Recently.

The Intelligencer has received a letter which will be of interest to a number of Anderson county people. E. A. Young, who moved from this county last January to Louisville, a in Jefferson county, Georgia, states that his county was visited by a severe hail storm on the night of the 6th of July, and his crop was ruined. "The storm," he says, "completely destroyed the crops of myself and several others. My corn crop was beaten down to the ground and my cotton, all but about three acres, is practically ruined. The hail stones were as large as teacups. My house was scarfed from the hail. The blinds in the windows were broken and frames were split up. The roof of the house is cypress pine, practically new, and hail stones came through in several places."

And Seen Nothing Better.

"Say, did you ever know a woman to buy what she wanted at the first store she came to?" "Yes. My wife frequently does---that is, she returns to it after she's been to all the other stores."

WHERE THE BOOKS ARE TO BE FOUND

Voters Are Told Exactly Where They May Go To Locate Registration Books

There has been considerable spelling around the city of Anderson about there being some difficulty in finding the books for the enrollment of voters in various precincts. It has been said in some places that the voters do not even know that they have to enroll and that other voters do not know where the registration books are located. The following information along this line will therefore be very interesting:

The book for Ward 1 will be found in the office of Mr. Eugene Tribble. The office is on the second floor of the Brown building and the book is open to the public at all times in the day.

Ward No. 2. The book for this ward is at the Rast Furniture store. Mr. Foster Fant is secretary and the book is open at all times of the day.

Ward 3. The book is in the supervisor's office and J. S. Acker is secretary. The office and the book are open to the public at the office hours of the supervisor.

Ward 4. This book is in the hands of the secretary, Mr. D. O. Browne, at the Peoples Bank and is open at all hours of the morning.

Ward 5. This is the book that has caused most of the talk. It was reported that this book was kept on the third floor of Hotel Chiquola but this is a mistake. Mr. King stated this morning that the book for ward 5 has been in the office of the hotel since the day after the election, and has been open to the public at all hours of the day and night. The office is kept open all night and the book is at hand day or night. It has never been moved since the day after the election. Mr. King says that his book has been more than open to the public and that it has been within ten feet of the sidewalk all the time. His is about the only book that is open day and night.

Ward 6. The book for ward 6 is in the hands of Mr. Frank White. The book is open at the mill office all through the day and is taken home by Mr. White at night.

At Orr Mill, the book is at the mill and there are signs telling where and when the book is found. There is no trouble experienced in finding the book at all.
